WEDNESDAY will be Halloween. Spooky ghosts and goblins are said to roam about on this night. Scary jack-o-lanterns will shine from windows, and black cats with fiery yellow eyes may blink across your path. But brave and hearty celebrants will venture forth unafraid armed with horns, bells, whistles, and other noise makers with which to scare away the evil spirits. Youthful pranksters will take advantage of the celebration and play devilish tricks about the city. The morning sun will be greeted with many strange sights, left in the wake of practical jokesters.

Many Halloween social activities will be enjoyed by grownups and kiddies. Costume parties with games in keeping with the season are being planned. Fortune telling ghost-story telling, and ducking apples are still popular as ever at these happy gatherings. Eeeeeee; Oooooooooooooo! Wooooooooooooooooo! Beware lest the goblins get you on Halloween.

A GROUP of reporters at police headquarters were debating whether or not modern day negroes were as superstitious as folk lore sets forth. It was decided to prove the question by 'Sugarfoot', the ebony-colored handy man. The plot was to make up a sum of money, which would be placed on a broken mirror, and set behind a tombstone in a graveyard on Halloween night. The location of the money would be given 'Sugarfoot', and the money was his . . . if he would go forth and claim it. The proposition was put up to 'Sugarfoot' with emphasis on the broken mirror, the graveyard, and tombstone. The darkie rolled his eyes, scratched his head for a while, then said:

"White folks, graveyards am bad enough for a nigger to mess 'round any night, but on Halloween night dey am plum 'repoustulous.'"

SATURDAY is the birthdate of President Theodore Roosevelt, 26th president of the United States. 'Teddy,' Roosevelt, as he was affectionately known, was born at New York City in 1858. He was inaugurated in 1901 at the age of 42 years. Roosevelt was of Dutch ancestry, a Harvard graduate, and a politician by profession. He was twice married. His first wife was Alice Hathaway Lee. A daughter was born of this union. Two years after the death of his first wife, Roosevelt married Edith Kermit Carow. Four sons and one daughter were born of this second marriage. He served two terms of office. Roosevelt died at Oyster Bay, N. Y., in 1919 at the age of 60 years.

OUTSTANDING events of the Theodore Roosevelt administration were: Panama Canal treaty, Wright Brothers first airplane flight, 1903. San Francisco earthquake and fire in 1906. The state of Oklahoma admitted, 1907, and the financial panic in 1907.

SUMMER temperatures are still holding sway in San Antonio despite several unfulfilled promises of a 'norther' by the weather bureau. Temperatures are ranging about the high 90's. However, the iceman is happy, and so are the householders who are escaping heating bills.

AS A MATTER of precaution against the possibility of stray dogs and cats having rabies and thus infecting innocent children, Bexar county health authorities have issued an appeal to citizens of San Antonio to discontinue the practice of abandoning unwanted pets near schools. Owners of these animals should call the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to animals.

BAY ST. LOUIS BOARD SETS TAX LEVY AND REDUCES ASSESSMENT

No Change in Millage but $250,000 Assessment Reduction Means Saving to Tax Payers of About $5,750 In Taxes for Next Year

The Mayor and commissioners of Bay St. Louis at the business meeting in September adopted budget for 1934-35 that sets the tax levy at 23 mills for next year, the same as for the past year; and which permits the reduction of the assessed valuation of property in the city 10 per cent, that is, approximately $250,000. Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois stated. Although the millage remains unchanged, yet the tax payers of the city will be saved approximately $5,750 due to the reduced assessment, he said.

The 1934-35 budget follows: city fund, $35,774.28; school fund, $26,887; water works fund, $13,773.22; and sinking bond fund, $36,897.50. The tax levy follows: general and general improvement fund, 10 mills; school fund, 7 mills; water works fund, 2 mills; and sinking bond fund, 4 mills.

By February of next year the board expects to pay off the final $6,000 bonds on the Bay Central High School, a building constructed in 1926 for which the city borrowed $67,000. Last year the city paid off $8,000 school bonds.

The present outstanding bonded indebtedness of the city of Bay St. Louis is $108,000, possibly the lowest of any Coast town. In the two years that the present administration composed of Mayor G. Y. Blaize, and Commissioners W. L. Bourgeois and Grady Perkins, has paid off $35,000 of the bonded indebtedness.

At the close of the fiscal year, September 30, the Bay St. Louis city officials compiled an annual statement and made a comparison of budgets and expenditures for 1932-33 and 1933-34, showing that in 1933-34 the city's total expenditures were $16,059.56 less than in 1932-33. The total expenditures in 1932-33 were: $91,978.94; and in 1933-34, $79,919.38. It was pointed out that when the present board took office two years ago it inherited a budget, and at the close of the year the expenditures were $39,893.78 less than the budget for the year.

"We have saved the city almost $60,000 less than the budget adopted in the past two years," Mr. Bourgeois pointed out.

INCREASE NUMBER OF PUPILS

Total of 1360 White Pupils Enrolled in Rural Schools First Month

According to reports at the close of the first month of school the enrollment in the rural schools of Hancock county including the Waveland School totals 1360 pupils. County Superintendent Albert S. McQueen stated. This number shows an increase over the total enrollment for the same period last year, he said. "The spirit among the teachers and truck drivers in this section is noticeable better than last year, due possibly to the fact that they have received final payments on their last year salaries and the first month's salary for this year," Supt. McQueen said. "If the fine work started this month continues, the year promises to be one of the best in the history of the county," he said.

The enrollment in the various schools is given, the number quoted for the three line schools of Sellers, Dedeaux and Caesar being the Hancock County pupils in those schools. Leetown, 31; Catahoula, 73; Kiln, 299; Gulfview, 109; Waveland, 110; Logtown, 125; Gainesville, 28; Aaron Academy, 71; Fat Top, 48; Clement Harbor, 15; Edwardsville, 32; Bayou La Eugene, 9; Sellers, 165; Dedeaux, 158; and Caesar, 81.

In addition to these enrollments, a total of 102 pupils from the county are attending the Bay St. Louis High School Department.

ROCKACHAWS MEET HOLY CROSS SUNDAY IN SEASON'S CLASSIC

Both Teams Will Enter Undeclared—Holy Cross Strong Contender for Prep Honors in N. O.

Due to the fact that Sunday afternoon in New Orleans will be taken over by the Holy Name societies of the city, the Holy Cross game has been transferred to the Rockachaw balliwick. The transfer will mean that season tickets for home games will be void.

The Rockachaws have been busy this week in going through dummy scrimmages against Holy Cross plays. Packwich who coaches the N. O. eleven is a former Notre Dame quarterback. The Holy Cross team boasts of a hefty line and a versatile backfield with Danny Lyons and Boesch doing stellar work in the backfield. Boesch is the boy with the educated toe. Last Monday night against Fortier his boots averaged 47 yards. Not bad for a prep boy.

Coach Glover is really worried this week-end. He will probably face the loss of Garriga and John Heath from the line-up due to injuries received in the Aloysius game last Saturday night. Heath is laid up with a bruised shoulder, while Garriga's ankle is still giving considerable trouble.

Tickets for the game can be obtained by calling at the College. Pre-game tickets will sell for thirty-five cents; admission at the gate will be fifty cents for adults and twenty-five for children.

COUNTY TEACHERS MEETING

President Stuart of Pearl River Junior College Will Be Guest Speaker

The monthly meeting of the Hancock County Teachers' Association will be held on Saturday, October 27, 10:30 o'clock at the Bay St. Louis High School.

President J. F. Stuart of Pearl River Junior College will be the guest speaker. His subject has not been announced but it is believed that his address will deal with educational problems of interest to all teachers.

Other features of the program will include the discussion and adoption of a Field's Day program; opening song led by Prof. Clayton Stewart, Catahoula; invocation, Prof. G. W. Hillis, Waveland; and announcements by County Superintendent of Education Albert S. McQueen.

At the close of the program the teachers will adjourn to the individual department meetings, programs for which have been announced.

EDMUND F. FAHEY ATTENDS NATIONAL FUNERAL CONVENTION

Local Undertaker Reports Interesting Session in New Orleans

Edmund F. Fahey of the Fahey Undertaking Co., funeral directors took an active part in the fifty-third annual convention of the National Funeral Directors Association at New Orleans, according to convention headquarters there.

Enforcement of the NRA funeral code to protect the public against burial racketeers was a major topic before the delegates. Legitimate funeral directors believe that a great forward step was taken when the force of federal statute was put behind the code of ethics of the profession by the NRA.

Protecting public health by strict requirements in the scientific training of embalmers before state licenses are granted was also presented to the convention for consideration.

Expansion of the educational and service departments of the National Association was recommended by the board of governors.

The convention, which opened at the Municipal Auditorium, Wednesday (Oct. 17) adjourned Friday the 19th.

ANNUAL HOSPITAL REPORT

Local Institution Shows Increase of 112 Per Cent In Year's Business

The annual report for the King's Daughters and Sons Emergency Hospital at Bay St. Louis, submitted to the King's Daughters and Sons Circle by Mrs. C. E. Craft, superintendent, shows an increase of 112 per cent in a year's time.

The fiscal year closed October 1 and Mrs. Craft in preparing her report made a comparison with last year's activity.

This year a total of 200 patients have been treated; last year 89 were treated. Of this year's 200, 121 were charity patients with a total of 538 days of treatment at the hospital; and 79 patients with a total of 258 days at the hospital, making a total of 796 hospital days.

Last year of the 89 patients treated 41 were charity with 226 days in the hospital; and 48 patients with 172 days at the hospital, making a total of 398 hospital days.

The King's Daughters and Sons are gratified at the growing popularity of the hospital with people of the county and express appreciation for the patronage and for the aid given to every project for the benefit of the hospital during the past year.

HANCOCK COUNTY TAX LEVY

Levy is Unchanged; Assessment is Reduced Over $1,000,000 for next Year

The Board of Supervisors in session this week to consider tax matters, has set the tax levy for the ensuing year with no change in the levy; but has reduced the assessed valuation of property of the county over $1,000,000, it is reported. This reduction in the assessment represents approximately a 20 per cent reduction on all assessments, it was explained. Although the tax levy remains the same as last year, yet the taxes to be paid in the county will be approximately 20 per cent less than last year due to the decreased assessment, it was pointed out.

The Supervisors had been advised by the state tax department that definite increases must be made in various taxations of the county. The supervisors believing that the state tax commission asked too great increases, sent a delegation composed of Emilio (Dick) Cue, president of the Board; Calvin Shaw, supervisor; George L. Cuevas, assessor, and Sheriff T. Ed. Kellar, to Jackson to confer with the tax commission requesting a reduction of the order.

The result of this trip is noted in definite reductions obtained over the original order. All assessment was taken from improvements on county lands; 5 per cent was made on cut over lands instead of the 50 per cent first requested; auto assessments will be raised only 50 per cent instead of the original 100 per cent demanded; merchandise increase will be 50 per cent instead of 150 per cent; and all personal property assessments were reduced under the former schedule, it was reported by the delegation on its return.

GAS MEN AND CITY AGREEING

Every Prospect for Passage Of Gas Franchise, City Officials Announced

The amended charter for a gas franchise in the city of Bay St. Louis by T. L. James & Co., of Delhi, La., has every prospect of being acceptable to the company and the city and company are "close" in agreement in the matter, city officials announced this week.

"We are pretty sure to come together on the few minor matters to be adjusted," Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois, stated.

The proposed charter which the city of Bay St. Louis submitted in an amended form to the company seeking the franchise, was taken to Louisiana by Sam George representative stationed in Bay St. Louis by the investment bankers interested in the franchise and his company is quoted as expressing approval of the terms laid down by the city. Senator K. B. Knott who represented the company in the Bay St. Louis franchise matter will be in Bay St. Louis November 6, when the Mayor and commissioners meet and it is believed that at that time all conditions will be favorable for the passage of the franchise, Mr. Bourgeois stated.

"We believe that by summer the people of Bay St. Louis will have gas to use," Mr. Bourgeois said. The Mayor and commissioners are anxious to secure the gas for the residents of this section who desire it," he said.

The Campaign Committee of the local Scout Committee met Thursday to work out details of organization in the Scout Drive to be held at Bay St. Louis, Tuesday, October 30, according to A. G. Favre, campaign chairman. All workers will be divided into teams, with team captains, and each team will be given a section of the city to canvass.

A very attractive Boy Scout billboard sign, entitled, "America's Future Lies in Its Youth," has been set up on the Beach at Court street, due to the efforts of Arthur Scafield and others. "It was plenty of work, but it was worth it, averred Mr. Scafield, who is chairman of the Campaign Committee of the Bay-Pass District. The billboard, which measures 9 feet by 22 feet was made to order. Members of Troop 217 helped to carry the huge sign from the rear of the convent school to its present location on Court street.

Some of the slogans to be used in the campaign are these: "Building Boys is Better than Mending Men," and "Building Better Boys is Our Biggest Business." Chairman Favre urges all citizens to realize the significance of these slogans and with these in mind to whole heartedly support the drive.

The members of both troops will meet on Monday afternoon at the City Hall and parade through the business district, ending at the Court House. The Municipal band will head the parade.

The following is the personnel of the campaign committee:

ANOTHER COLORED PRIEST ORDAINED AT ST. AUGUSTINE'S

Most Rev. R. O. Gerow, D. D., Bishop of Natchez, Celebrates Mass.

St. Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, was the scene of another ordination ceremony, Sunday, October 21, when many friends of the Fathers of the Divine Word came to witness the impressive ordination by His Excellency, the Most Reverend Richard O. Gerow, D. D., Bishop of Natchez, Miss., of another seminarian to the priesthood.

The Most Reverend Richard O. Gerow, celebrated a pontifical Mass, during which he ordained to the priesthood, the Rev. Philip Marin, a native of British Honduras. At the services two other seminarians, Clarence Howard of Rock Mount, North Carolina, and Orin Wells of St. Louis, Missouri, received the first two Minor Orders.

Preceding the Mass a procession of the clergy went from the rectory to the college chapel. As the organ intoned the "Ecce Caverdos," which was sung with great effect by the male choir, His Excellency, the Most Reverend Bishop entered the chapel. The Bishop and his attendants then entered the sanctuary, and the former ascended the throne which was erected on the right side of the high altar. Here the Bishop arrayed himself in his pontifical robes in preparation for the Mass which followed immediately.

The small chapel was crowded to capacity. The Very Rev. Hugo Aubry, S. V. D., Provincial of the Society of the Divine Word was present for the occasion together with a number of clergy and several religious orders of Sisters. The music of the Mass was rendered by the Seminary choir, under the direction of the Reverend John Gasper, S. V. D. At the completion of the ceremony (Continued on page 4)

A GOVERNMENT RADIO SYSTEM

A NEWSPAPER man in Washington recently said that the proposal that the government establish an educational radio system, paralleling the big chains, is not being taken seriously.

We wonder why. There is surely a field for service to the educational institutions of the country through the establishment of such a service and nobody familiar with present day radio programs would contend seriously that any effort has been made to use the radio for educational purposes.

This question should not be confused with government control of present radio systems.

These could operate as they please but there could be set aside certain radio channels for the use of a government owned and operated system, designed solely for the benefit of the government and the people, without a thought of profit.

While we are not worshippers at the shrine of government operation we are not panic stricken at the thought of government operation of some essentials. There is no reason, so far as we can see, why such a radio system would not be of tremendous value to the nation and serve an extremely useful purpose.

THE TRAGIC TAX

WE all kick over the taxes saddled on us by politicians—but how many protest about taxes we impose upon ourselves? There are any number of these, and one of the heaviest is due to the economic cost of the nation's automobile accidents. It is the Tragic Tax.

Investigators say that at least 95 per cent of motor accidents are avoidable. They cannot be blamed on the automobile, but on the driver. They are due to some failure, some sin of omission or commission on the part of the man or woman behind the wheel. In spite of intensive work by the authorities and safety associations, we go on just the same, smashing and crashing, killing and maiming, flaunting the laws and regulations.

And we are paying plenty for it. According to estimates compiled by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, 35,000 or more persons will be killed this year, and more than a million injured. Statisticians estimate the total economic cost of all this to be between one and a half billion and two and a half billion dollars when all the items are added. Assuming that two billion dollars approaches the correct figure, it means a cost of about $16.66 for every one of the 120,000,000 persons in the United States. That is indeed a tragic tax to pay for our own recklessness.

FOX VICTORY ASTOUNDS FILM WORLD

LEADERS of the film world hardly know what is going to happen since the United States Supreme Court rendered a decision upholding the claim of William Fox to certain patents without which moving pictures cannot be made.

Some years ago Fox was forced out of his own company, which was taken over by others who he claimed, had taken advantage of him. Out of the wreck Fox retained control of a corporation which owned the valuable patent rights, but two huge concerns asserted they had basic patent rights and the film industry listened to them.

Exhibitors all over the country were practically blackjacked into buying from these larger companies. Now, along comes the Supreme Court and says Mr. Fox has the winning cards, and is entitled to an accounting of profits from all talking pictures. Nobody knows what the total will be but it will run into many millions.

HERE'S A NEW STRIKE MODEL

SOMETHING new in the way of strikes developed last week in Hungary where 1,200 miners a thousand feet underground, threatened mass suicide unless their demands for more money were met.

Paid about two dollars a day the workers wanted $3.50. They threatened mediators, maintained an armed guard and swore they would smother themselves unless granted relief. On the ground their relatives, frantic and despairing, demonstrated before armed guards.

Eventually, the miners came up, after fasting five days below the ground without food or water. Hundreds of them were near collapse and others too weak to be brought to the top. They had been given some of their demands.

The miners certainly took a striking method of securing relief. Their desperate action put Hungarian mine owners in the spotlight and revealed to a world the hard life that the miners lead.

Personally, we doubt the efficacy of capital punishment but not when depraved human beings murder little boys and girls.

When you put your advertisement in The Sea Coast Echo you get your message in most of the homes of Hancock county where most members of every family will read it.

TEACHERS' PRAISE AND PAY

WE are greatly amused with those who advise teachers in our public schools to consider their 'responsibilities' and 'high privileges' and forget to urge the communities in which these people labor that it is necessary for them to have reasonable pay if they are to function as builders of youth.

In spite of all our high-sounding talk about the worth of teachers to society and our boasted belief in the worth of education, the fact remains that teachers, as a class are woefully underpaid. Moreover, few people seem interested in their welfare, although most parents are quick to insist that Genius Willie, or Genius Sallie, could have made faster progress under better schoolroom conditions.

During the depression years it was a common habit throughout the United States to slice the pay of teachers in order to relieve the groaning taxpayer. In places the slicing was overdone, just as the groaning was amplified beyond proper proportion. The process of raising teachers' pay will not be as fast as the slicing, nor is the outlook favorable for any more appreciative attitude to the value of teachers to a given community.

In a general way we have an admiration for the calling of the teachers, but in individual instances we can easily pick flaws in the work of the preceptor. Moreover, the economic law of supply and demand continues to work and with a surplus of teachers hunting jobs the pay scale will continue to lag behind that given to other workers of similar training and importance.

FIGHTING KIDNAPERS

PUBLIC interest in kidnappings is intense. It is not a matter of the money involved, bad as the stealing is, but public sympathy is responsive because every man and woman can understand exactly how the members of a family are tortured over the fear for the safety of the stolen loved one.

The Federal Government, assisted by local authorities, has made a strong effort to punish kidnapers, in the hopes of breaking up the practice. The drive hasn't deterred criminals from trying to use what seems an easy way to accumulate wealth. They risk the punishment in the hopes of concealing their identity. Every time a kidnaper is punished, it helps discourage future stealings.

If it keeps on, however, sooner or later it will be necessary for some brave, courageous family group to defy the underworld, refuse to pay tribute, and advise the criminal that blood money can not be obtained this way. However, what family group can hesitate to barter dollars, if it has them, when a loved member of the group is in danger? So, this answer will hardly come to this criminal threat.

An aroused public must help end the racket. Alarms should be promptly given every available avenue of publicity enlisted to catch the criminals, and no mercy shown them. Kidnapings must be made too dangerous for the underworld.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK BRIGHTENS

THE general business outlook is somewhat improved as the four months slump seems to have ended and indications are that the upward trend will continue for five or six months, with perhaps a slight sag after the New Year begins.

This is the belief of competent authorities and is borne out by the occurrences of the past three weeks. Moreover, business men are beginning to appreciate the importance of the gains made in agricultural areas, where buying power must be restored before full recovery can be obtained.

The Sea Coast Echo has time and again pointed out the potential demand for all kinds of commodities if the farming portion of the population is given a chance to profitably carry on its occupation. This has not been the case for many years although a start along the right road has been made and unless present policies are changed the agriculturalist can expect progressive improvements in the next three years.

Along this line we call attention to the recent statement of Merryle Stanley Rukeyser, economist of Columbia university, who says that business men "have not fully appreciated" the relative advance in farm prices and that the "striking improvement in net agricultural purchasing power will support a level of economic activity substantially higher than that reached in July, 1933."

LUCK TO THE AMERICAN LEGION

THE American Legion, meeting this week at Miami, is preparing to demand national legislation to insure universal service of the country's manpower and industry in time of war.

Just before the convention began Commander Edward A. Hayes, of Decatur, Ill., made public what is believed to be the policy of the ex-soldiers. They want national conscription in wartime, the freezing of prices, profits, wages and salaries at the pre-war level to prevent private gain and adoption of a plan to utilize all resources without any special profit or privilege.

The Echo is happy to endorse this general statement of Legion aims and hopes that the boys who were in the war will get behind some program of this kind in earnest. It is time for all nations to take the profit out of war and there is not time to do it when the fighting commences.

The American Legion can be a great instrumentality for good in the United States if it will put aside selfish considerations entirely and be on guard for the national welfare. Unfortunately some years ago the impression was widespread that the Legion was not completely unselfish in its objectives but we believe that this has been eliminated in the past few years.

By the way, what was the name of the last sensible book you read?

MERELY THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

UNPAID TAXES

THE Rotary Club is never accused of being a wild-eyed, radical organization. On the contrary it is much ridiculed as a stodgy, conservative, lot of money-grubbers. It is composed of business and professional men, substantial citizens, with personal interests in the preservation of order and of property rights. An article in the Rotarian cannot be easily dismissed as a reckless and irresponsible attack on the Constitution, on bank and bankers, or on any other settled and respectable American institution.

A description of the manner in which a city in Southern California built a new city hall with unpaid taxes, which appeared in recent issue, is therefore doubly interesting. The city was in a financial condition which has become quite usual in these distressing times. On top of that that city hall burned down, and so a new building was very badly needed, with a cost of about forty thousand dollars estimated for the kind of a structure that was wanted.

The way to get forty thousand dollars for a new building is to issue a lot of bonds, but the voters twice resolutely refused to approve any more bonds. They already had more than they knew how to pay. There was little more than four thousand dollars available in cash. There were only two other possible assets, a lot of delinquent taxes and a mayor with a head on his shoulders.

This astute gentleman offered to his fellow-citizens an opportunity to build their own city hall, working out unpaid taxes at the rate of two dollars a day for unskilled labor and four dollars a day for bricklayers, and he got more help offered than he could use. He used local material, in this case adobe, or sun-dried bricks. Doors and other fittings were obtained at very low, sacrifice sale prices from hotels that were being wrecked. Good head work, plus some valuable cooperation, especially from other Rotarians, built a forty thousand dollar structure, of which the city is proud, for a cash cost of about one-tenth that amount.

Business is a complex thing. Not everybody who owed taxes could make bricks, or do construction work. The men who were skilled at that sort of thing and who performed the actual labor, not only wanted to pay their taxes, but they needed food for themselves and their families. That problem was not so difficult for a Californian with a head. For instance: One of the delinquents was a grocer with a good stock, but slow turnover. He was willing to furnish a certain amount of groceries to the workers, in part pay for their labor, in return or credit on his back taxes. But there was a further complication. The grocer owed his landlord for rent, and the landlord owed taxes to the city. The grocer therefore had to turn over more of his goods to the workers, getting receipts for his landlord's back taxes, with which he paid his own rent.

As a result of this primitive, but very practical method the city has a new building of which it seems very proud, certain of its people, including good Rotarians, are certainly very proud of their part in the work, and the total debt structure of the community has been reduced some thirty-six thousand dollars, instead of being increased by about forty thousand dollars, plus fees, commissions and interest charges. They actually have the building and are better off besides.

The Chicago Tribune reports that capital is fleeing from California. It may be that some of those highly competent Californians will be just as well satisfied to see it go, because they may decide that they can get along better without it. The other side of capital is debt, as everybody ought to recognize who knows enough bookkeeping to debit his receipts and credit his payments. The state will certainly be better off if it keeps its property and gets rid of its debts.

Of course the achievement may be condemned as socialistic revolutionary un-American and therefore unconstitutional, since there was no rake-off in it for anybody. It is similar to the "Epic Plan" which is being so unsparsingly condemned and so bitterly fought, except that Sinclair is aiming to have the people produce goods for private consumption, instead of for public use, and to pay them in scrip instead of in tax receipts.

The idea is not new in that state. Last year it was reported that a woman paid the tuition of her little daughter in a private school by delivering paint to a man who had a bill against the school mistress for interior decorating. Then she proceeded to support herself comfortably by setting up "trading posts" to make other deals for other people. A man who worked a day for a farmer and took his pay in farm produce which he carried home that evening in a sack on his shoulder was imitated until the organization which grew up became large enough to exchange oranges for potatoes in carload lots.

We have some unpaid taxes in Hancock county and also some improvements that might be made if we had the means. The idea occurs that somebody here might imitate those Californians.

President Roosevelt expects to visit the Tennessee Valley Authority plant next month and see for himself the rapid realization of this vast social experiment.

Sapling Sayings

(Company 1484-CCC, Kiln, Miss.)

WELL, well! The time has rolled around again for another dance. We're having Slade's GRAND BAND from Gulfport. They have eleven pieces now and we should have some good music, if they all come.

They tell us that Pew Willoughby's idea of having a good time is having a pack of Luckies, a pack of gum, and a ride to Kiln.

We have heard rumors that Captain Hagg will be leaving next month. We surely will hate to see him go.

Our private laugh of the week: Lt. Griffin coolly inquired of Mr. Givens the difference between a coon and a raccoon. He says that at least he hasn't spent all his life in the country.

And speaking of animals we find we have two o'possums, and two of the cutest little flying squirrels to add to the camp menagerie. You know, of course, that we have had four young coons for some time.

Tony Vaccaro insists that he was in Kiln Sunday and "ate one of the best coca-cola's you never saw. They must have been good. He even forgot his date."

The St. Stanislaus football team played hob with our cook, Coly Mills, but he says they sure play football.

Is Phillip Murphy going sailing down in Kiln again?

We see Price still goes to Bay St. Louis regularly, but we understand he has a long way to walk when he gets there. To see whom, I wonder?

These G. I. truck drivers have a system. They ride the G. I. back one night and the bread truck the next.

That's all. More next week.

WASHINGTON NOTES

NO SISSIES

Declaring, "We do not propose to be sissies," Secretary Morgenthau says that the Treasury Department will not hesitate to use any "feasible means" to detect narcotic peddlers, bootleggers and smugglers. The remark came when Mr. Morgenthau was asked about wire-tapping, and it was taken in some quarters as a tacit approval of the practice by detective agents of the government.

FARLEY SUSTAINED

Refusing to review the action of Postmaster-General Farley in suspending air mail contracts, the Supreme Court of the United States declined to hear the appeal of an air company, seeking restoration of its rights.

TO EXTEND NOTES

Moving to expand credit, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation recently announced a program of greater leniency on repayments affecting all borrowers. Where security will not suffer by extensions, borrowers will be given as many as five years from next January. Chairman Jones feels that loans made by the RFC are being repaid faster than necessary, and that dollars paid back are kept out of action.

AIR MAIL TO JAPAN

Giant passenger flying boats may soon span the Pacific. In fact, Pan-American Airways, Inc., has written Postmaster-General Farley that it appears practicable at an early date to operate an experimental air transport service to link their existing operations in the Far East with California. Already the company has ordered six flying boats, capable of carrying 32 passengers, and one of them—the Brazilian Clipper—is operating now between Miami and South America.

BUSINESS MOVING UP

The monthly business survey of the American Federation of Labor says that the summer decline was checked in September, with business showing moderate upward gains. The rise is expected to continue throughout 1934, with greater gains next Spring.

CAN'T PAY WOUNDED

A woman and two CCC workers, shot by Justice agents in the roundup of John Dillinger, cannot be cared for at the expense of the government, under the ruling of Comptroller-General McCall, who says that Congress will have to approve private bills for the benefit of the wounded.

CALL FOR BONDS

The call for redemption on April 15 of $1,870,000,000 of the Fourth Liberty Loan four and one-half per cent bonds is taken as an expression of confidence by the Treasury in the government's financial position, and also as an indication that "present monetary and financial policies will continue for the next six months."

Solid Copper Tea Kettle

(Chromium Lined)

Everyone knows of Paul Revere's heroic ride from Charleston to Lexington to warn the Minute Men, but few know of Paul Revere's Secret.

Paul Revere was the only man in the U.S. who knew the secret of malleable copper. The U.S. Government advanced him $10,000 to build the first copper mill and he made the sheathing for the U.S. Constitution to protect her against rust and corrosion.

Today in the replica of Paul Revere's house in The Early American Village at Chicago World Fair this kettle is the show piece.

With The Movies And Film Folks.

SPECULATION is rife, declare some observers, as to whether or not the moving picture industry will be moved from Hollywood to the East or to Florida some time in the near future should Up-ton Sinclair be elected governor of the State of California. It seems that some alarm is being felt by film folk over the taxation plan proposed by Mr. Sinclair, which, they believe, is aimed at the substantial salaries of the industry. Some insist that this is just another rumor, while others admit there is something to the speculation.

According to announcement, Marlene Dietrich and her director, Josef von Sternberg, are at the parting of the ways. "Caprice Espagnol," in which Joe. McRae and Lionel Atwill are appearing with her, will be her last under his direction.

William Powell's first vehicle under his two-film contract with RKO Radio is to be the current Red Book Magazine serial, "Star at Midnight." The story is by Arthur Somers Roche.

Metro has bought the screen rights to James Hilton's "Rage of Heaven." This is the second Hilton story bought by this studio, the first being "Goodbye, Mr. Chips." Both are to be produced this season.

Mae West is searching high and low for an Indian to appear in a major role in her latest picture, "Now I'm a Lady." She is said to have asked Secretary Ickes if the Indian who posed for the penny profile was still around, but has received no reply to date.

Josephine Hutchinson is said to have the role of Herminia in Warner's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Shakespeare, under the direction of Max Reinhardt. Other members of the cast are yet to be selected.

Loretta Young is to be Ronald Coleman's leading lady for the third time when they appear together in "Clive of India." Their previous appearances together were in "Devil to Pay," and "Bulldog Drummond Strikes Back."

Will Rogers, back from a holiday jaunt around the world, is certainly up against a busy schedule at the Fox studios. Four productions have been planned for this cowboy-humorist-journalist-actor. The first one is

"One More Spring," in which Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter will also appear; next comes "The County Chairman," then "What Am I Bid?" and the fourth is yet untitled.

Charles Farrell has returned to this country from England where he has just completed the leading role in "Falling In Love" for British International Pictures.

Ben Lyon will have the lead in Columbia's production of "Call to Arms," the Willard Mack production in which Mr. Mack will figure as author, director and actor.

Leslie Howard is expected to return from abroad shortly. His first picture for Warners will be "Beau Brummel," adapted from the play by the late Clyde Fitch.

Franchot Tone will play the part of Wallace Beery's son in "West Point of the Air," being produced by Metro.

Four Weeks on Mountain, Howard Lindsey Emerges With Spectacular Hit Play

"She Loves Me Not," the smash hit of the current theatrical season, which in the motion picture version starring Bing Crosby and Miriam Hopkins comes to the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday, was written in just four weeks actual working time.

Howard Lindsey, the playwright working from the novel of the same name, completed the task which probably sets the all-time mark for speed in completing successful plays, while on a vacation in the Swiss Alps, where, as he says, "A chap's head is clear, and the scenery is grand."

Twenty Three Years in Theater

Lindsey, who has been associated with the theater for more than twenty years, has other successful plays to his credit. Chief among them are "Tommy," "Your Uncle Dudley," and "Oh, Promise Me," but the time taken in writing these was no wise comparable with the less than a month spent on "She Loves Me Not." It took Lindsey, and Bertram Robinson who collaborated, two years to write "Your Uncle Dudley," and nine months for both "Tommy" and "Oh, Promise Me."

Lindsey has been, in the long term of his association with the stage, actor, director and producer, and he has worked in vaudeville, burlesque, musical comedy, stock, the legitimate theater and films.

From 1913 to 1917, Lindsey was Margaret Anglin's stage manager. After a period of service in the A. E. F., he returned to New York to stage plays for George C. Tyler, before launching into production on his own.

College Background

"She Loves Me Not," which features Kitty Carlisle, Henry Stephenson, Warren Hymer and Lynne Overman, is the story of the little nightclub dancer who took refuge from the police in a Princeton dormitory. Through a succession of hilarious rapid-fire events the entire college, all of gangdom, the press and the movies become involved in the situation, which is brought to a happy climax when Miriam Hopkins, as the dancer, wins a movie contract, and Bing Crosby marries the dean's daughter.

Leading Grocers Thru-Out South Featuring Paul Revere Copper Kettle

Outstanding names in the grocery business of the South, such as "Kam-pers," of Atlanta, and many of the outstanding grocers in every part of the Southern States are using Paul Revere Solid Copper Kettles as leaders.

Many grocers have checked the outstanding value on this premium, and have found that these Kettles are selling for $36.00 a dozen wholesale and retailing for anywhere from $3.70 to $4.50.

The amazing offer made by the Roasters and Packers of LUZIANNE COFFEE in which they offer the housewife one of these beautiful Solid Copper Kettles, lined with Chromium, for three special vouchers from Luzianne Coffee and $1.99 has proved to be a tremendous attraction and many grocers have reported general business stimulation by use of this offer to their customers.

The Kettle is made from two pounds and fifteen ounces of Solid Copper by the Revere Copper and Brass Company, one of the largest companies in the industry today—a company which has come down through the years from the original Revere Copper Shop, which was started by Paul Revere himself.

This Kettle was the show piece of the Chicago World Fair in the replica of Paul Revere's home in the Early American Village—it is an heirloom piece which will be handed down from family to family, tying up with family traditions and memories.

The demands for this premium, both by grocery stores as leaders for their stores and by the users of LUZIANNE, has run almost to a total of 30,000 kettles within the last few weeks.

One special Voucher is packed with each 1 lb. can of LUZIANNE and three vouchers in the 3 lb. pail.

Through the grocer the Roasters and Packers of LUZIANNE make an unusual offer to the housewife who is not as yet fully acquainted with the merits and value of LUZIANNE COFFEE.

Any housewife has the privilege of purchasing a pound of LUZIANNE COFFEE under a money back guarantee. She is asked to take home a pound of LUZIANNE, use only half as much as any other coffee she has used and on this basis, if it does not make a better cup, after using entire contents of the can, she is entitled to bring it back and get her full money back from the grocer.

The manufacturer protects the grocer on this liberal guarantee.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS AND ATTORNEY GENERAL'S COMMENTS

Honorable Walker Wood, Secretary of State, Jackson, Mississippi, Dear Sir:

The Legislature of 1934 adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 37, requesting the Attorney General to interpret each of the four constitutional amendments to be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 6, 1934. In said resolution the Attorney General is requested to explain in a general manner the additional powers granted to the Legislature by the adoption of such amendments, and the probable results to be obtained as a consequence of such adoption. I am directed to file a copy of such interpretations with you, and you in turn are directed to have such interpretations published as proposed constitutional amendments are now published, and you are further directed to send a copy of said interpretations to the Election Commissioners of the various counties of the state, and the said Election Commissioners are directed to have copies thereof printed and distributed to the various voting precincts for posting and for distribution to the electors.

I trust that you and the public will understand that my discussion of these proposed amendments at this time, and in this manner, is pursuant to the request of the Mississippi Legislature as contained in said Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 37. It is no part of the duties of the Attorney General to champion any sort of legislation. Indeed, it is my judgment that he will impair his usefulness as a public official if he becomes partisan and involved in legislative controversies, therefore, I avoid all such, but when the Legislature, as it has the right to do, solemnly calls on me for my opinion and my views as in this instance, I conceive it my duty to respond in a candid manner.

Yours very truly, GREEK L. RICE, Attorney General.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 3

A Concurrent Resolution to amend Section 241 of the constitution of the State of Mississippi as to the qualifications of an elector.

It is not generally thought that this change will materially affect the franchise article in our Constitution. Section 242, requiring strict registration, is not affected by this proposed amendment. Section 242, which, perhaps, is the most valuable one of them all, in the maintenance of white supremacy at the polls, will not be affected. This section requires that each elector shall be able to read any section of the Constitution of this state, or he shall be able to understand the same, if read to him, or give a reasonable interpretation thereof. It is believed that this section affords ample protection against undesirable voters and it is further believed that in view of the large number of our best people who have become disqualified in this respect because of delinquency in payment of property taxes, that the best interests of the state will now be served by the adoption of this amendment.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 5

A Concurrent Resolution to amend section 115 of the constitution of the State of Mississippi so as to change the beginning of the fiscal year from the first day of October to the first day of July.

Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Mississippi, two-thirds of the Senate and the House of Representatives agreeing thereto: That the following amendment to the constitution of the State of Mississippi be submitted to the qualified electors of the state for ratification or rejection at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D., 1934, viz:

Amend section 115 of the constitution of the State of Mississippi, so that it shall read as follows: "The fiscal year of the State of Mississippi shall commence on the first day of July and end on the thirtieth day of June of each year; and the auditor of public accounts and the treasurer of the State shall compile and have published a full and complete report, showing the transactions of their respective offices on or before the thirty-first day of December of each year for the preceding fiscal year."

bezzlement, or bigamy and who has paid on or before the first day of February of the year in which he shall offer to vote, all poll taxes which may have been legally required of him, and which he has had an opportunity of paying according to law, for the two preceding years, and who shall produce to the officers holding the election satisfactory evidence that he has paid taxes, is declared to be a qualified elector; but any minister of the gospel in charge of an organized church shall be entitled to vote after six months' residence in the election district, if otherwise qualified.

Attorney General's Comment on Amendment Proposed by Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3

The explanation here is simple and the change sought by the proposed amendment is easy to understand. Under Section 241 of our Constitution, as it exists at this time, in addition to all the other requirements of a qualified elector, it is required that such elector must have paid, on or before the first day of February of the year in which such elector shall offer to vote "ALL TAXES" which may have been legally required of such elector, and which such elector has had an opportunity of paying according to law, for the two preceding years. A citizen otherwise qualified under this proposed amendment will be a qualified elector if ONLY THE POLL TAXES for the two prescribed years are paid as therein set out, although such citizen may not have paid taxes on any of his property.

It is well to keep in mind the distinction between a mere voter and a qualified elector. The Mississippi Legislature has heretofore provided that citizens of the state, otherwise qualified, may vote in Primary Elections, upon payment of poll taxes as above prescribed. However, as the law now stands, under Section 241, unless such a citizen pays, not only his poll taxes, but "ALL TAXES" in the manner prescribed therein, he is not a qualified elector. Therefore he cannot vote in general and special elections. He cannot vote on these amendments. He is not eligible for jury service. The Legislature is powerless to abolish repeal or minimize any of the qualifications prescribed under said Section 241. The only way in which this can be reached is by change in the Constitution in the manner proposed by this Amendment.

It is not generally thought that this change will materially affect the franchise article in our Constitution. Section 242, requiring strict registration, is not affected by this proposed amendment. Section 242, which, perhaps, is the most valuable one of them all, in the maintenance of white supremacy at the polls, will not be affected. This section requires that each elector shall be able to read any section of the Constitution of this state, or he shall be able to understand the same, if read to him, or give a reasonable interpretation thereof. It is believed that this section affords ample protection against undesirable voters and it is further believed that in view of the large number of our best people who have become disqualified in this respect because of delinquency in payment of property taxes, that the best interests of the state will now be served by the adoption of this amendment.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 23

A Concurrent Resolution to amend section 112 of the constitution of the State of Mississippi so as to provide that the legislature may classify property for taxation.

Section 1. Be it Reolved by the Legislature of the State of Mississippi, two-thirds of the Senate and the House of Representatives agreeing thereto: That the following amendment to the constitution of the State of Mississippi be submitted to the qualified electors of the state for ratification or rejection at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D., 1934, viz:

Amend section 112 of the constitution of the State of Mississippi, so that it shall read as follows: "The legislature shall have power to provide by law for the classification of property for the purpose of taxation. Property shall be assessed for taxes and all exemptions granted by general law. Taxes may also be imposed on privileges, excises, occupations, incomes, legacies or inheritances, which taxes may be graduated and progressive, and shall have the authority to impose a severance tax on natural resources when the same shall be sold as articles of commerce; and reasonable exemptions may be provided. The legislature may impose a per capita tax upon domestic animals which by their nature and habits are destructive to other property. The legislature may provide for a special mode of assessment for railroads, or other public service corporations, or for other corporate property generally belonging to persons, corporations or associations not situated wholly in one county. All property shall be assessed at its true value and taxed in proportion thereto."

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 24

This amendment proposes a change in section 112 of the Constitution. That section, as now written, provides that "Taxation shall be uniform and equal throughout the state." Generally speaking, it requires that all property be assessed at its true value and that the same rate of taxation be levied thereon. If this amendment is adopted, the legislature is thereby given the power to classify property for purposes of taxation and it will have the power to fix a different rate to be paid on stood if discussed together. They are companion measures and the full benefits desired can only be secured by adoption of both amendments. By adopting the amendment proposed in Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 5, the fiscal year of the state will hereafter commence on the first day of July and end on the 30th day of June, instead of beginning on the 1st day of October and ending on the 30th day of September, as now fixed in said Section of the Constitution. This change will make our fiscal year the same as that of the Federal government and that the two governments should have the same fiscal year is becoming more and more important all the while from a book-keeping and accounting standpoint. The fiscal year of any government, like that of any business institution, is the period for which its books are kept and at the end of which its accounts are closed and operating statements are prepared.

If these two amendments are adopted, it is the legislative purpose to make appropriations for state departments, institutions and agencies based on the fiscal year instead of the calendar year. Appropriations are now made for two year periods—said funds so appropriated being available for use, beginning with January in the year appropriation is made.

When the Legislature convened in regular session in 1932, and again in 1934, no state department, institution or agency had any funds to operate on until appropriation bills had been passed by the Legislature and approved by the Governor. No such bills were approved in 1932 until May 18th of that year. Consequently, if it operated at all, had to operate on credit for these five months. Credit prices are usually higher than cash prices. No officer, agent or servant received any compensation during that period. There were no funds available, even for the purchase of postage stamps during that period of time, except for special appropriation measures. If the state's business had been operated then on the basis contemplated and planned by these two amendments, no such condition would have arisen. The appropriations based on the fiscal year as herein proposed would have been available for use until the 30th day of June following the convening of the Legislature.

The amendment proposed by Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 23 would have authorized two additional months after ending of fiscal year to pay accrued obligations out of appropriations before said appropriations passed. Under this procedure it would give the Legislature opportunity to study carefully all appropriation bills, uninfluenced by pressure and arguments of immediate need by the departments, institutions and agencies. It is clear that these changes would better promote the continuous and uninterrupted and economical operation of the state's business.

If Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 5 is defeated, then no purpose would be served in adopting Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 23. In that event, it would be better to defeat both.

In considering these two amendments, it might be well to mention the fact that in substance both these amendments have been recommended for adoption by the last three state auditors, viz: Hon. Geo. D. Riley, Hon. Carl C. White and Hon. Joe S. Price. I am also authorized to say that both these proposals are favored by the present state treasurer, Hon. L. S. May.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 24

A Concurrent Resolution to amend section 112 of the constitution of the State of Mississippi so as to provide that the legislature may classify property for taxation.

Section 1. Be it Reolved by the Legislature of the State of Mississippi, two-thirds of the Senate and the House of Representatives agreeing thereto: That the following amendment to the constitution of the State of Mississippi be submitted to the qualified electors of the state for ratification or rejection at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D., 1934, viz:

Amend section 112 of the constitution of the State of Mississippi, so that it shall read as follows: "The legislature shall have power to provide by law for the classification of property for the purpose of taxation. Property shall be assessed for taxes and all exemptions granted by general law. Taxes may also be imposed on privileges, excises, occupations, incomes, legacies or inheritances, which taxes may be graduated and progressive, and shall have the authority to impose a severance tax on natural resources when the same shall be sold as articles of commerce; and reasonable exemptions may be provided. The legislature may impose a per capita tax upon domestic animals which by their nature and habits are destructive to other property. The legislature may provide for a special mode of assessment for railroads, or other public service corporations, or for other corporate property generally belonging to persons, corporations or associations not situated wholly in one county. All property shall be assessed at its true value and taxed in proportion thereto."

It might be well to observe that this proposed amendment, under the terms of section 112 provides for a special mode of valuation and assessment for railroads and other corporate property and for particular species of property not situated wholly in one county. As now written, said section 112 provides that: "No county shall be denied the right to levy county and special taxes upon such assessment as in other cases of property situated and assessed in the county." That part of said section 112 just quoted is omitted from this proposed amendment. No reference is made to the county's right to assess and tax such property. It appears therefore, that if this amendment is adopted, such property may be marked or classified by the legislature for state taxes only and the counties may be prohibited from levying any tax thereon.

If this amendment is adopted and the vast authority therein granted the Legislature is intelligently, honestly, and patriotically applied, it will go far toward solving many of our present perplexing tax problems.

In regard to all four of these proposed amendments, let me remind you that the only way any one or more of them can become a part of your present constitution is by receiving a majority of all the votes cast in the general election on November 6, 1934. Not a majority of those voting on the particular amendment, but a majority of those voting on any issue, or for any candidate whose name appears on the ticket at said election. If 100,000 voters go to the polls and vote on any issue or for any person in said general election on November 6th, then any one or more of these amendments which receives less than a majority vote of this total vote, fails of adoption.

Therefore, if you favor the adoption of any one or more of these amendments and vote in said election, on any issue, but do not vote for such amendment, then your vote as a matter of law is recorded against the adoption of such amendment. In this situation, it is important that you vote.

Attorney General's Comment on Amendment Proposed by Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 24

This amendment proposes a change in section 112 of the Constitution. That section, as now written, provides that "Taxation shall be uniform and equal throughout the state." Generally speaking, it requires that all property be assessed at its true value and that the same rate of taxation be levied thereon. If this amendment is adopted, the legislature is thereby given the power to classify property for purposes of taxation and it will have the power to fix a different rate to be paid on
